

Pardon us for mentioning it, but there is a little matter to which the student wishes to call the attention of some of its subscribers. It is only a small matter to be sure, but some way it seems to have slipped the mind of many of us. It seems some-time almost necessary to carry on our business. No more than this mere suggestion is perhaps necessary, so we thank you in advance for your immediate attention to this matter. A word to the wise, etc.
