

And so now we are living in the city, the limits having been extended during the winter. Boys, now lets wake up and have our say in city matters, lets elect a member to the city council the coming election. We are enough to carry the day. Then why not?